Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 14 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Windy with outbreaks of rain. Turning milder.

Today:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain, turning heavy for a time but clearing to sunny or clear spells and showers later. Very windy with widespread gales, easing this evening. Much milder than of late. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Most places will stay dry overnight with a few clear periods and the odd light shower. It will be a much milder night with strong southerly winds gradually easing. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Monday:
Rather cloudy in the morning with scattered showers, then mainly dry in the afternoon with some sunshine. Another mild day with fresh southerly winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
A rather cloudy few days with some brighter interludes and scattered showers. It will be windy at times and staying milder than of late.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.